*The Educator Hall of Fame was established in 2007 by Kip Greenhill, current UA School Board Member and former UAHS Principal, Upper Arlington City Council President and Mayor, to honor "the best of the best" educators in the district. Retired educators are nominated for this recognition by their peers, former students, parents, and others, and are selected by a group representing educators and alumni.

The Alumni Awards have been presented annually since 1993 and have honored many accomplished graduates. Alumni are nominated by the alumni community and others and are selected by an alumni selection committee.
